2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2.1 The Basis of Presentation

Statement of Compliance to TFRS

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with the requirements of CMB Communiqué Serial II, No: 14.1 "Basis of Financial Reporting in Capital Markets" ("Communiqué"), which were published in the Official Gazette No: 28676 on 13 June 2013 and in accordance with the Turkish Financial Reporting Standards ("TFRS") and Interpretations that have been put into effect by the Public Oversight Accounting and Auditing Standards Authority ("POA"). The consolidated financial statements has been presented with examples of Financial Statement by the POA. All reports have suited the TFRS formats. The consolidated financial statements are prepared according to historical cost accounting except for the revaluation of land and financial instruments. The consolidated condensed financial statements of the Group for the nine months ended 30 September 2026 have been prepared in accordance with TAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting. The interim condensed financial statements do not contain all the information and explanations that should be included in the annual financial statements and should be read together with the annual consolidated financial statements of the Group as of 31 December 2025.

Approval of the Consolidated Financial Statements

These consolidated financial statements have been approved for issue by the Board of Directors with the resolution number 1323 on 27 October 2026. There is no authority other than General Assembly and legal entities has the right to amend the consolidated financial statements.

Functional Currency

The individual financial statements of each Group entity are presented in the currency of the primary economic environment ("Functional Currency") in which the entity operates. The Company's reporting currency is Turkish Lira (''TL''). For the purpose of the consolidated financial statements, the results and financial position of each entity are expressed in TL, which is the functional, and presentation currency of the Company for the consolidated financial statements.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (continued)

Amounts are expressed in thousands of TL or Foreign Currency unless otherwise stated. Kuruş, Turkish Currency subunit and 1 TL is equal to 100 Kuruş.

Preparation of Financial Statements in Hyperinflationary Periods

With the decision taken on 17 March 2005, the CMB has announced that, effective from 1 January 2005, the application of inflation accounting is no longer required for companies operating in Türkiye and preparing their financial statements in accordance with CMB Accounting Standards and therefore the preparation and presentation of financial statements in accordance with International Accounting Standard 29 "Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies" is no longer required.

On 23 November 2023, Public Oversight Accounting and Auditing Standards Authority ("POA") announced the application of inflation accounting in Turkey and according to the announcement, financial statements of entities applying TFRS for the annual reporting period ending on or after 31 December 2023 should be presented as adjusted for the effects of inflation in accordance with the related accounting principles in TAS 29. As of the date of these financial statements, inflation adjustment has been made in accordance with TAS 29 while preparing the financial statements dated 30 September 2026.

IAS 29 requires that financial statements prepared in the currency of a hyperinflationary economy be stated in terms of the measuring unit current at the balance sheet date and that corresponding figures for previous periods be restated in the same terms using the general price index. One of the conditions that require the application of TAS 29 is a three-year cumulative inflation rate of approximately 100% or more. In Turkey, based on the consumer price index ("CPI") published by the Turkish Statistical Institute ("TURKSTAT"), the cumulative rate was 158% for the three-year period ended 30 September 2026 (31 December 2025: %211).

Adjustments for inflation have been calculated based on the coefficients calculated using the Consumer Price Index in Türkiye published by the Turkish Statistical Institute. As of 30 September 2026, the indices and coefficients used in the restatement of the accompanying financial statements are as follows:

Period	Index	Correction Coefficient
30 September 2026	137,23	1
31 December 2025	110,39	1,2432
30 September 2025	105,78	1,2973

The main lines of TAS 29 indexation transactions are as follows:

As of the balance sheet date, all items other than those stated in terms of current purchasing power are restated by using the relevant consumer price index coefficients. Prior year amounts are restated in the same way. Financial statements of previous reporting periods have been restated to reflect the current purchasing power of money at the latest balance sheet date. The current period restatement factor has been applied to the prior period financial statements.

Monetary assets and liabilities are not restated because they are expressed in terms of the purchasing power of money at the balance sheet date. Monetary items are cash and items to be received or paid in cash.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities are restated by reflecting the changes in the general price index from the date of acquisition or initial recognition to the balance sheet date in their acquisition costs and accumulated amortization amounts. Accordingly, property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, right-of-use assets and similar assets are restated to their acquisition values, which do not exceed their market values.

Depreciation has been restated in a similar manner. Amounts included in shareholders' equity have been restated by applying the consumer price indices for the periods in which such amounts were contributed to or arose within the Company.

All items in the income statement, except for the effects of non-monetary items in the balance sheet on the income statement, have been restated by applying the multiples calculated over the periods when the income and expense accounts were initially recognized in the financial statements.

The gain or loss arising on the net monetary position as a result of general inflation is the difference between the restatement adjustments to non-monetary assets, equity items and income statement accounts. This gain or loss on the net monetary position is included in net profit.

All items presented in the statement of cash flows are restated for the effects of inflation in the measuring unit current at the end of the reporting period.

The effect of inflation on cash flows from operating, investing and financial activities is attributed to the related item and the monetary gain or loss on cash and cash equivalents is presented separately.

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns

The Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee when if facts and circumstances arise there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Even though the Company has voting rights less than a majority, if it has ability to manage the operation of the investee unintentionally, then the Group assess that it has control over that investee.

The Company considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Company's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- comparison of voting rights of the Group and the others,
- potential voting rights held by the Group, and others,
- rights arising from contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate the Group has, or does have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made (including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meeting).

The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases. Income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Company gains control until the date when the Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Each item of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to align with the Group accounting policies and the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup balances, equity, income and expenses, profits and losses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated during consolidation.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The Group's joint ventures; IGG ASELSAN Integrated Systems and ASELSAN Kazakhstan Engineering established in 2011, ASELSAN Middle East established in 2012, TÜYAR Mikroelektronik Sanayi and ULAK established in 2017, TEKNOHAB Teknoloji Geliştirme Bölgesi established in 2018, TR Eğitim ve Teknoloji established in 2018, İstanbul Finans ve Teknoloji Üssü established in 2022, and Adıyaman Kablo ve Konnektör established in 2024 were included in the condensed consolidated financial statements by using the equity method. Since BARQ QSTP LLC is at micro level, there is no material consolidation effect on the Group's financial statements.

2.2 Comparative Information and Restatement of Prior Period Consolidated Financial Statements

In order to determine the financial position and performance trends, the Group's consolidated financial statements are presented comparatively with the corresponding figures. For the purpose of having consistency with the current term's presentation of consolidated financial statements, comparative information is reclassified and significant differences are explained if necessary.

2.3 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors

Significant changes in accounting policies and errors are applied retrospectively and prior period financial statements are restated, changes in accounting estimates are reflected to the financial in current period profit/loss.

When change in estimate in accounting policies are related with only one period, changes are applied on the current period but if the estimated changes are for the following periods, changes are applied both on the current and following periods prospectively.

2.4 New and Revised Turkish Accounting Standards

The accounting policies adopted in preparation of the consolidated financial statements as at 30 September 2026 are consistent with those of the previous financial year, except for the adoption of new and amended TFRS and TFRS interpretations effective as of 1 January 2026 and thereafter. The effects of these standards and interpretations on the Group's financial position and performance have been disclosed in the related paragraphs.

a) New standards in force as of 30 September 2026 and amendments and interpretations to existing previous standards:

Amendments to TFRS 9 and TFRS 7 – Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments

Applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026 (early application permitted). These changes are:

- Clarification of the timing requirements for the recognition and exclusion of certain financial assets and liabilities, with a new exception for certain financial liabilities paid through the electronic cash transfer system;
- Providing further guidance and clarification on assessing whether a financial asset meets the criterion for principal and interest payments only;
- Adding new footnote descriptions for certain instruments with contractual terms that could alter cash flows (such as some instruments with characteristics linked to the achievement of environmental, social, and governance (ESG) goals); and
- Updates to the footnote disclosures regarding equity instruments at fair value reflected in other comprehensive income.

Annual Improvements to TFRSs – 11. Change

Applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026 (early application permitted). Annual improvements are limited to changes that clarify wording in an Accounting Standard or correct relatively minor unexpected results, missed points, or inconsistencies between provisions in the Accounting Standards. The amended list of Accounting Standards for 2024 and related guidance includes:

- First Application of TFRS 1 Turkish Financial Reporting Standards;
- IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Explanations and Guidelines for the implementation of IFRS 7 attached to the Standard;
- TFRS 9 Financial Instruments;
- TFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements and
- TAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows.

b) Standards, amendments and interpretations published as of 30 September 2026 but not yet in force

TFRS 17, 'Insurance Contracts'

Effective in annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. This standard replaces TFRS 4, which already allows for a wide range of applications. TFRS 17 will fundamentally change the accounting of all businesses that issue insurance contracts and investment contracts with optional participation feature.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (continued)

2.4 New and Revised Turkish Accounting Standards (continued)

b) Standards, amendments and interpretations published as of 30 September 2026 but not yet in force (continued)

Amendments to TAS 21 – Currency conversion to a high-inflation presentation currency

Applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 (early application permitted). These narrow amendments regulate the conversion procedures to be applied for businesses whose presentation currency is the currency of a high-inflation economy. The business implements these changes if:

- In the event that a business whose functional currency is the currency of a non-high-inflation economy converts its financial situation and operating results into the currency of a high-inflation economy; or
- In the case of a foreign enterprise, whose functional currency is the currency of a non-high-inflation economy, the financial position and operating results are converted into the currency of a high-inflation economy.

These changes aim to improve the usefulness of the resulting information in a cost-effective manner and reduce diversity in practice.

TFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

Applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 (early application permitted). This standard is the new standard for the presentation and disclosure of financial statements, focusing on updates to the profit or loss statement. The main new concepts introduced in TFRS 18 relate to:

- Structure of the profit or loss statement
- Disclosures required in the financial statements for certain profit or loss performance measures (i.e., performance measures defined by management) reported outside of the financial statements of the entity; and the developed principles on aggregation and disaggregation that apply to the basic financial statements and footnotes in general.

"In order to comply with TAS 8 paragraph 30, the following issues are expected to be included in the footnotes to the financial statements for the reporting period ending March 2026:

- The nature of the changes,
- The fact that TFRS 18 must be applied for annual reporting periods starting on or after 1 January 2027,
- Planned first implementation date and
- One of the following:
- During the period when IFRS 18 was first applied, known or reasonably predictable information that would help assess the possible effects of the application of the standard on the financial statements of the entity; or
- Where these effects are unknown or not reasonably predictable, a statement that expresses this situation.

In order to comply with paragraph 30 of TAS 8, businesses should consider the following principles when preparing disclosures regarding the adoption of TFRS 18:

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (continued)

2.4 New and Revised Turkish Accounting Standards (continued)

b) Standards, amendments and interpretations published as of 30 September 2026 but not yet in force (continued)

- The disclosures are expected to become increasingly detailed in line with the progress of the implementation process of businesses towards 2027

  The level of detail that a business will include in its disclosures will depend on the level of progress in its first-time implementation activities, including work on internal control processes. As of the accounting period ended 31 March 2026, businesses that have not yet made significant progress in the implementation process can only state that they are actively evaluating the possible impacts of IFRS 18 and that more comprehensive disclosures could not reasonably be provided.

- Evaluating the submission of quantitative information if appropriate and reliable

  It may be appropriate to disclose preliminary draft amounts, provided that the entity has a proper and reliable basis for making such disclosures and provides clear disclosures that the information in question is provisional. For example, a business might quantitatively express the effects on subtotals in its profit or loss statement. If the quantitative effects are not reasonably predictable, an explanation should be provided. Businesses can disclose effects that are known and reasonably quantitatively expressed; however, disclosures under TFRS 18, such as the Management Performance Metrics (MPM) reconciliation, are not expected to be submitted early before the implementation date.

- Assessing alignment with other public communications

If the management has made public disclosures regarding the projected effects, for example, in an investor presentation, the disclosures included in the financial statements under TAS 8 must be consistent with these communications. Disclosures should be based on information available up to the date of publication of the financial statements, not just information available as of the end of the reporting period.

TFRS 19 Amendments Regarding Subsidiaries Not Accountable to the Public: Explanations

Applicable for annual reporting periods starting on or after 1 January 2027 (early application permitted). IASB has taken into account the disclosure obligations in other TFRS Accounting Standards as of 28 February 2021 in enhancing the reduced disclosure obligations in TFRS 19. When TFRS 19 was published, it did not include reduced versions of any disclosure obligations that were added or changed after that date. Subsequently, the IASB issued these changes to facilitate eligible subsidiaries by reducing their disclosure obligations under the standards and amendments published between February 2021 and May 2024, in particular:

- TFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosures in Financial Statements;
- Regulations on Supplier Financing Agreements (amendments to TAS 7 and TFRS 7);
- International Tax Reform — Second Pillar Model Rules (amendments to TAS 12);
- Lack of Interchangeability (amendments to TAS 21); and
- Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments (amendments to TFRS 9 and IFRS 7).

IFRS 20 Regulatory Entities and Regulatory Liabilities

Applicable for annual reporting periods starting on or after 1 January 2029 (early application permitted). This standard is the new standard for businesses that are subject to certain types of price adjustments. Its purpose is to provide investors with a better understanding of the implications of said regulation on the business's financial performance, financial position, and expectations for future cash flows.

Temporary Differences	(18.481.346)	(16.066.915)
Deferred Tax Assets - Net	11.209.797	10.283.210

The earnings gained within the scope of Technology Development Zones Law numbered 4691 and the Support of Research and Development Activities Law numbered 5746 were exempted from corporate tax until 31 December 2028.

Forecasts, expected duration of research and development incentives and temporary differences are considered in calculating deferred tax asset.

As of 30 September 2026, the corporate income tax rate applicable in Türkiye is 25% (31 December 2025: 25%). Corporate income tax is calculated by applying the applicable tax rate to taxable corporate income, which is determined by adding expenses that are not deductible for tax purposes to commercial profit and deducting the exemptions and allowances permitted under tax legislation. Under Law No. 7582, published on 4 June 2026, the corporate income tax rate applicable to income generated, effective from 1 January 2027, from manufacturing activities carried out by entities holding an industrial registry certificate and actively engaged in manufacturing has been reduced from 25% to 12.5%. Although this amendment does not affect the current tax calculations for the current period, it has been reflected in the deferred tax calculations in the financial statements as of 30 September 2026, taking into account whether the related income is attributable to manufacturing or non-manufacturing activities.

In accordance with the law numbered 5746 pertaining to 30 September 2026 period the Group has calculated "Deferred Tax Asset" amounting to TL 21.203.592 from Research and Development expenses comprising "Outstanding Research and Development Deductions".

The Group includes in its deferred tax calculations the future tax benefit expected to be realized under the reduced corporate income tax incentive granted within the scope of the investment incentive certificate pursuant to Article 32/A of the Corporate Income Tax Law No. 5520, to the extent that it is probable that such benefit will be utilized and in accordance with the relevant legislation. The recognition of this deferred tax asset is based on management's estimates and judgments regarding the recoverability of the investment contribution amount and the probability that sufficient taxable profits will be available in future periods against which the tax benefit can be utilized. As of 30 September 2026, the Group has recognized a deferred tax asset of TL 8.487.551 arising from Investment Incentive Certificates.

	30 September 2026	30 September 2025
Profit before tax from continuing operations	23.564.856	3.442.646
Tax (expense)/income recognized in profit or loss	2.784.698	11.590.270
Effective tax rate	12%	337%

Effective tax rate is calculated by dividing net tax income recognized in profit or loss to profit before tax from continuing operations.

Foreign currency sensitivity

The Group is exposed to foreign currency risk with respect to USD and EURO.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 10 percent increase and decrease in foreign exchange rates. 10 percent is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and present 10 percent change in foreign currency rates. This analysis does not include Group companies' balance sheet items which have functional currency other than TL. The effects of 10 percent changes in foreign currency rate on financial statements is as follows;
